

I have begun receiving daily faxes from anonymous sources who use computers to send out faxes in order to conceal the source of the originating call. These random calls are made to every number, and the fax is generated if the computer detects a fax tone on the receiving line. I have already signed up for the do not call list, and consider this to be a violation of that act. However, without a source number to file a complaint against, how do I (we) stop it? What is being done to address this latest nuisance?